S182 and Relationship Property: Implications for Estate Planners of Happening and Emerging Claims

Many cases could quite possibly have been avoided with better planning at the outset. From a simple will, to a complicated wealth management and succession plan, involving trusts and or other third party entities, estate planning can be a multifaceted and complex discipline. But at its very core, is the client – their circumstances, needs and expectations. All of these factors must be carefully considered with the simple question in mind – what could possibly go wrong? Receive a timely update on the relationship property issues that you need to be aware of when estate planning for your clients.

Back by popular demand, this highly practical programme will help you to develop the skills and strategies needed to tackle the complex issues that arise in subdivision matters. You will learn best practice when commencing a subdivision and how to set up an e-Dealing, examine the use of cross lease conversions, and gain an understanding of the resource management issues you need to be aware of when subdividing.

Commencing and Implementing a Subdivision: The Process and Best Practice

Join Alan as he takes you through the best practice process for completing a subdivision, including tips and traps that you may encounter along the way.

Presented by Alan Prescott, Partner, Harmans Lawyers

LINZ e-Dealings for Subdivisions

The introduction of Landonline has turned legal executives and lawyers into land title specialists, a task previously performed by highly-skilled land title analysts at LINZ. The task of setting up the e-dealing also requires close attention to detail, something busy practitioners can easily lose sight of, as demanding developers push for their titles to issue. A rejection at LINZ can delay the process even more.

- When do you start the process of setting up the e-dealing?
- What core documents do you need?
- What are the common mistakes, and how to avoid them?
- Where do I turn for help if stuck?
- How can I avoid a requisition, or worse, a rejection?

CONTRACT DISPUTES MASTERCLASS

TUESDAY, 22 MARCH 2022
2.00PM TO 5.15PM

$335
WEB223NZA38

Expertise in contract drafting is crucial in almost any commercial matter or transaction. This practical webinar will enable you to gain a mastery of some of the most important, and at times overlooked, techniques, clauses and drafting tools. Whether you're a seasoned contract drafter or just looking for a refresher, our contracts specialists will help you to refine your contract drafting skills to develop best practice

A contract is only effective if it is enforceable. With contracts lying at the very heart of both the commercial and legal spheres it's critical that you refine your knowledge, skills and strategies in this area. There's no better way to perfect your abilities when working with a contract dispute than to attend this practical masterclass. Zero-in on contract interpretation, mediating a contract dispute, the impact of insolvency on contracts and contract termination.

Chair: Chris Linton, Consultant, Duncan Cotterill

Chair: Kelly Paterson, Partner, Buddle Findlay

Pre-Contract Negotiations

The ability to construct "win/win" outcomes is one of the key differentiators between a good lawyer and a great one. Drawing on the presenter's own experience in this area, in this session you will work through a combination of practical and effective exercises with elements of Harvard's world leading negotiation programme to help you negotiate the best terms for your next contract.

Presented by John Steadman, General Manager – Procurement, Spark NZ

Contract Interpretation and Construction

- The difference between the principles of contractual interpretation vs construction
- Refresher on the admissibility of extrinsic evidence: prior negotiations and post-contract conduct
- The threshold for implying terms into a contract
- An update on the case law including the significant ruling in the Supreme Court in Bathurst Resource Ltd v L&M Coal Holdings Ltd [2021] NZSC 85

Presented by Melissa Hammer, Partner, Anderson Lloyd

Indemnity Clauses

- Are they really that important?
- What do they actually do?
- Should I include one in my commercial contract?
- Case examples – when indemnity clauses go wrong?

Presented by Brad Cuff, Barrister, Capital Chambers

Mediating Contract Disputes

Mediation provides a powerful tool for resolving disputes and restoring positive commercial relationships. However, different skills are required from lawyers and clients to unlock the benefits. Examine the issues including:

- Benefits of mediation (compared to alternatives such as negotiation, arbitration, or litigation)
- Multi-tier dispute resolution clauses
- The role of the mediator, the lawyers, and the parties
- Tips for managing the dispute and preparing for mediation
- Process and strategy within a mediation
- Documenting settlement

Presented by Laura O'Gorman QC, Bankside Chambers

Drafting Penalty Clauses and Uncertainty

Examine practical examples and recent case law on penalty clauses and questions around uncertainty, both of which can result in the Court finding that a contract is void.

Presented by Darise Bennington, Special Counsel, Duncan Cotterill

Earnout Clauses

Earn-out clauses are a pragmatic means of navigating contracting parties' views regarding an asset's value. However, they call for careful drafting.

- Explore case law on earnout clauses, how the attempts to bridge the gap went wrong and the lessons arising from them to bear in mind for future drafting.

Presented by Yoonjung Lee, Associate, Gilbert Walker

Terminating a Contract

Contracts can be terminated for many reasons but the right to terminate, and the remedies that flow, are not always straightforward.

- Discuss some of the key grounds to terminate
- Explore the risks of unlawful termination
- Examine frustration of contracts
- Terminating "at will" and sunset clauses
- Case law update

Presented by Harriet Quinlan, Senior Associate, Anthony Harper

Impact of Insolvency on Contracts

- An overview of the effect that the different corporate insolvency regimes have on contracts generally
- The effect of voluntary administration on certain contracts, such as leases and agreements which grant security interests in personal property
- Situations when contracts can still be enforced notwithstanding formal insolvency of a party, for instance by obtaining injunctive relief
- Claims by liquidators in relation to certain contracts entered into when the company is insolvent
- Case law update

Presented by Ben Russell, Partner – Dispute Resolution, Lane Neave
